CAT VS DOG

2017  PRODUCED BY MAGICAL ELVES

7X60  NEW  HD  animal planet

What happens when cats and dogs live under the same roof? Sometimes they make friends, but other times, an expert’s help is required. Join Jackson Galaxy and Zoe Sandor as they assess the conflict between cats, dogs, and the humans they live with.
Over 50% of dogs and cats in the U.S. are overweight and obese, leading to huge health issues that take years off a life. Expert pet trainer Travis Brorsen will create individual diet and exercise programs for each of the animals he meets. After setting the weight-loss wheel in motion, Brorsen checks in on the pets and their families four months later to see what the final weigh-in reveals.
The East African Elephant, a keystone species that supports multiple ecosystems and is vital for global health, is in jeopardy. One Tanzanian Ranger, Director of Anti-Poaching Robert Mande has teamed up with the non-profit American group of war-hardened veterans called VETPAW (Veterans To Protect African Wildlife). Together they’ll use on-ground intelligence to uncover crews of poachers that will lead them to larger networks, in the hope of taking down the illegal ivory syndicates that are destroying his country to fund terrorism. We’ll follow their story as they operate with locals on their travels across Tanzania in the hunt for these crews of suspected elephant poachers.
On March 26th, 2017, Akbar Salubiro set out to harvest palm fruit on the family plantation on the eastern island of Sulawesi. In a startling moment captured in cell phone footage that later went viral, Akbar’s body was discovered the next day in the belly of a 23-foot-long python. This film tells Akbar’s harrowing story alongside that of the constrictor, seeking to answer the question: How could this happen, and where might it happen next?
Renowned zoologist, animal trainer, and television presenter Dave Salmoni is no stranger to adventure. Having trekked the globe to study creatures and their unique ecosystems, Dave has walked the line between the wild and human world to explore the delicate balance between wildlife and civilization. Dave visits some of the world’s most remote islands to investigate how and why their native inhabitants have been so successful at surviving, despite the harshest of conditions.
